The 1964 Student Council took as one of its projects the adoption of a school seal. Students submitted ideas in the form of drawings, and from these a composite picture was formed. This seal was approved by the student body and was used for ten years until last year when the 1974 Senior Class expressed a desire to have the seal up-dated and included in a coat of arms of heraldic design. A committee composed of Marlin Snider, Bo Johnson, Perry Williams, and Donna Sams as class presidents, Jim Hunt as President of the Student Council, Mrs. Baker, Senior Advisor, Mr. Miller, Junior Advisor, and Mr. Honeycutt, Principal, met with a professional artist who had had experience in designing coats of arms for schools. From the sketches submitted by the artist, the committee selected the one which they felt best incorporated the ideas of the familiar seal. This sketch was then reproduced, framed, and placed in the media center.

The shield of the coat of arms is divided by a diagonal bar and is supported by a mantling of red and white, the school colors. The bar bears four red stars symbolizing the four years of high school. The upper left of the shield has a white torch with red flame on a black background and is the symbol of achievement. The lower right section of the shield has a quill and book of natural colors on a red field to symbolize the academic curriculum of the school. The Latin motto "Scientia est Potentia" at the base of the shield means "Knowledge is Power " and serves as a reminder of the importance of an education. Below the shield is a red and white ribbon bearing the inscription "Denton High, Denton, N. C." in black. The crest is an Indian head will full headdress, the school mascot and symbol of athletes at Denton High School.

The students feel that the coat of arms represents the ideals of the school as a whole and look forward to seeing it used as a symbol of achievements at Denton High School.

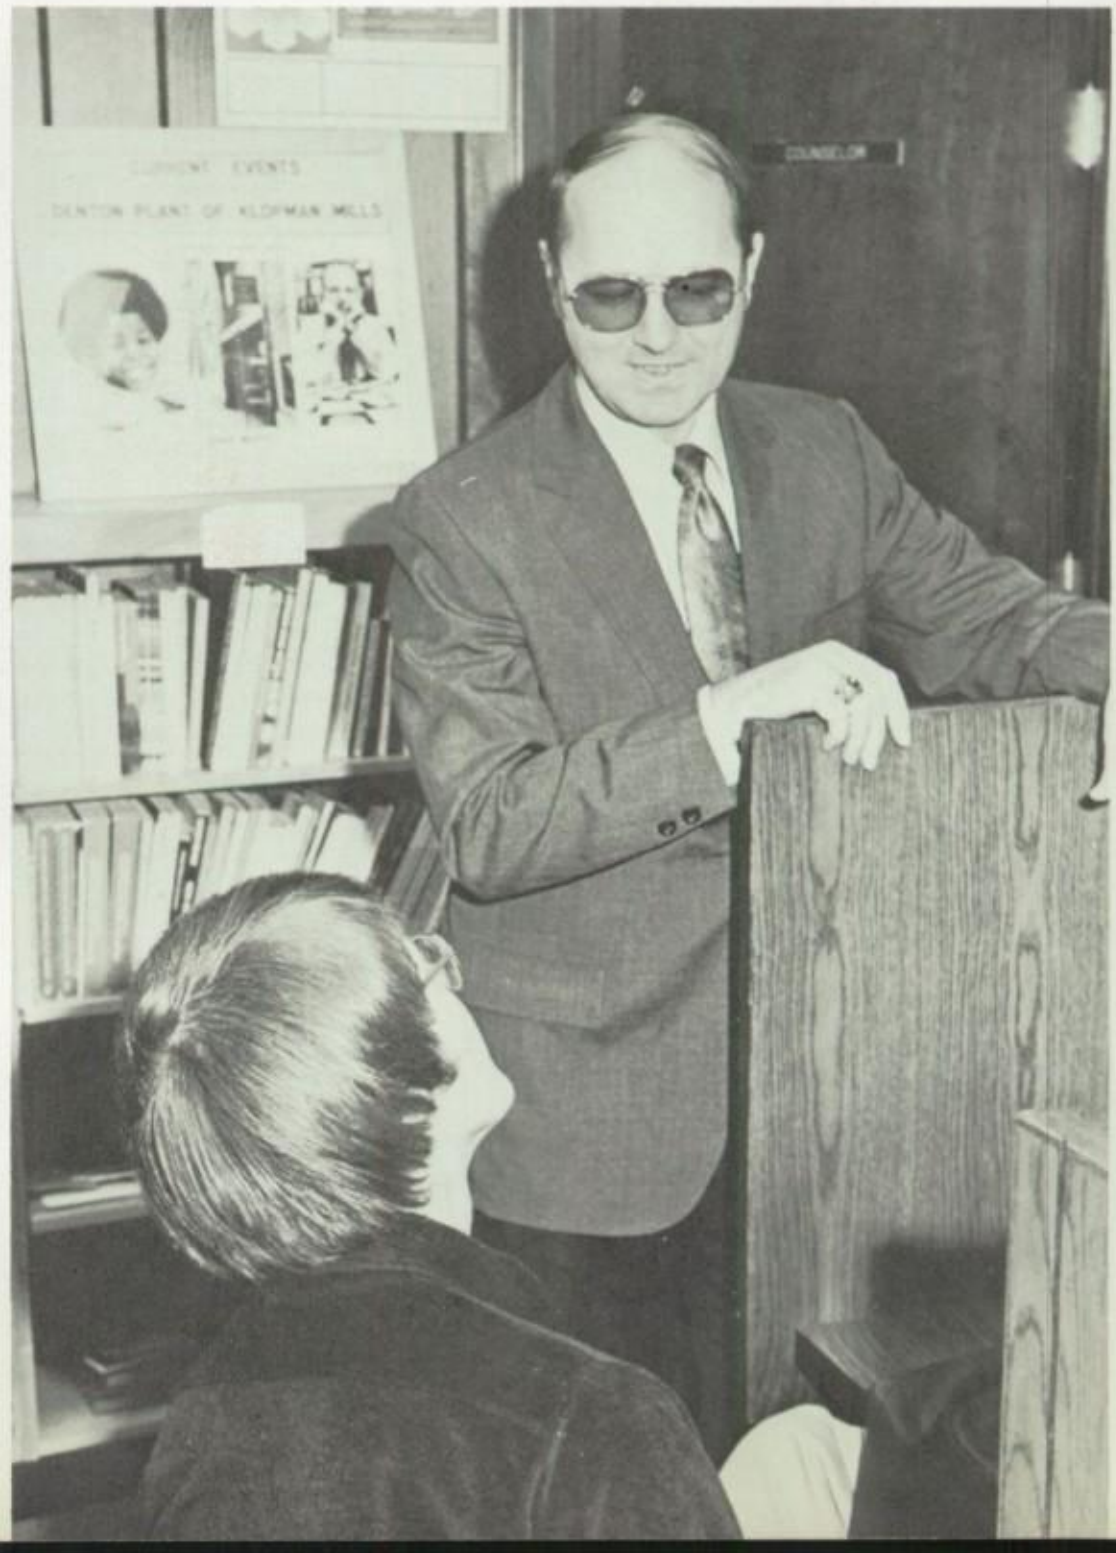
Dedication

The Senior Class of 1975 is proud to dedicate this edition of the PHOENIX to a person who spends many hours working for us. If not working on transcripts or keeping records up-to-date, he is counseling with us--just sitting, talking, or listening to us when we have problems or decisions to make. Too, he is always there when we need him in less important things; all we have to do is yell and he comes to our rescue with ideas for posters, class projects, or even homecoming headbands! In dedicating this yearbook to you, we hope to show you our appreciation for the hours you have dedicated to us so freely: MR. WAYNE MILLER.



Mr. and Miss Red Raider

Jill Snider and Bo Johnson

At the request of the PHOENIX staff, the High School Faculty selects Mr. and Miss Red Raider, thus honoring the senior boy and girl who do the most to improve the school and themselves. The faculty judges the students by their conduct, attitudes, participation, leadership, and cooperation in all phases of school life. In whatever activity Jill and Bo are involved, they may be depended upon to do their best, cheerfully and unselfishly giving of themselves, their time and talents.

Susan Peacock,
Activities Editor

torch\tó(ə)rch\n. 1: a burning stick of resinous wood or twist of tow used to give light and usually carried in the hand: FLAMBEAU; 2: something (as wisdom or knowledge) likened to a torch as giving light or guidance; 3: something that flames, burns, illuminates or enlightens, like a torch;-often with the allusion to the lighting of one torch from another or the passing on of a lighted torch as in a race; as succeeding generations have the duty of handing on the torch of knowledge.

The torch in the coat of arms, a symbol of achievement curricular or extra-curricular, is like the Olympic flame that radiates light and warmth- emblems of peace and friendship- after it has been ignited by the torchbearer. In the Olympic games the bearer's participation and perseverance become a prelude to the achievements of the many who take part in the competition.

As in the Olympics, so also in school life; we have torch-bearers: those who become involved in extra-curricular affairs and set the pace for other students to look beyond their books to the warmth of friendship shared in clubs, and the heat of competition for achievement in leadership.

Theresa Wallace and Jill Snider

The week of June 9-15 was an unforgettable one for Theresa Wallace and Jill Snider who were among the some 300 rising senior girls given a chance to take an intimate look into our government as members of the 35th annual Tar Heel Girls State. The week included endless lectures, city meetings, party conventions, working late into the night on party platforms, meeting new people, making lasting friendships, and just cutting up. Other memorable events were meeting Judge Elretta Alexander and Secretary of State Thad Eure.

All this in one short week. On Saturday, June 15, newly made friends said their goodbyes with tear-streaked cheeks and left for home. But not as they had come, for this week would remain with all of them forever.

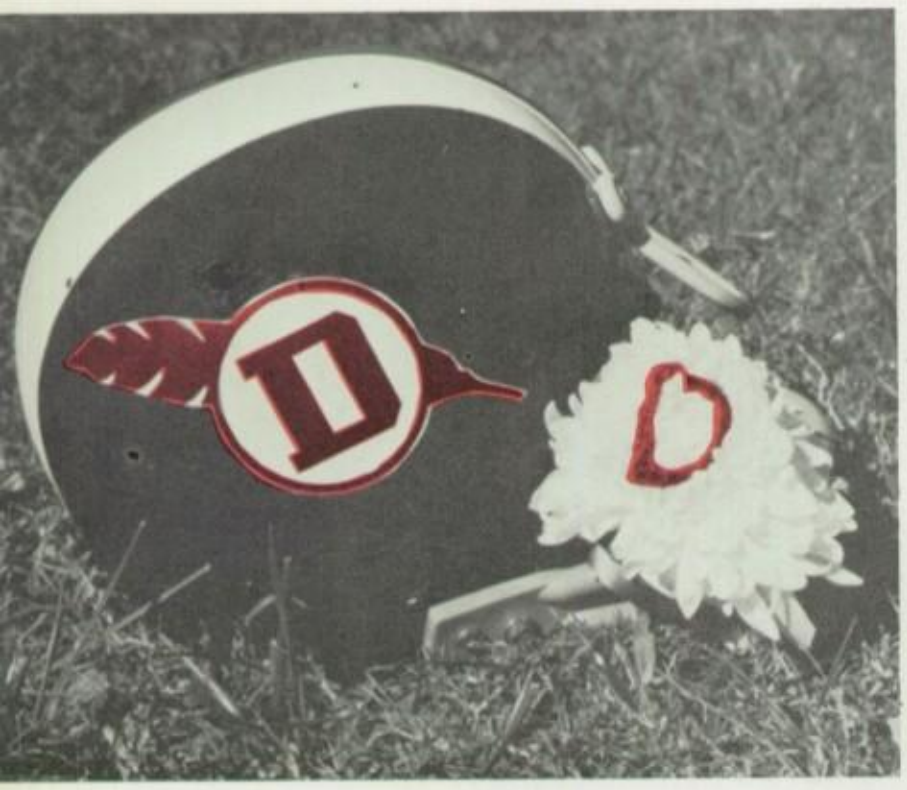
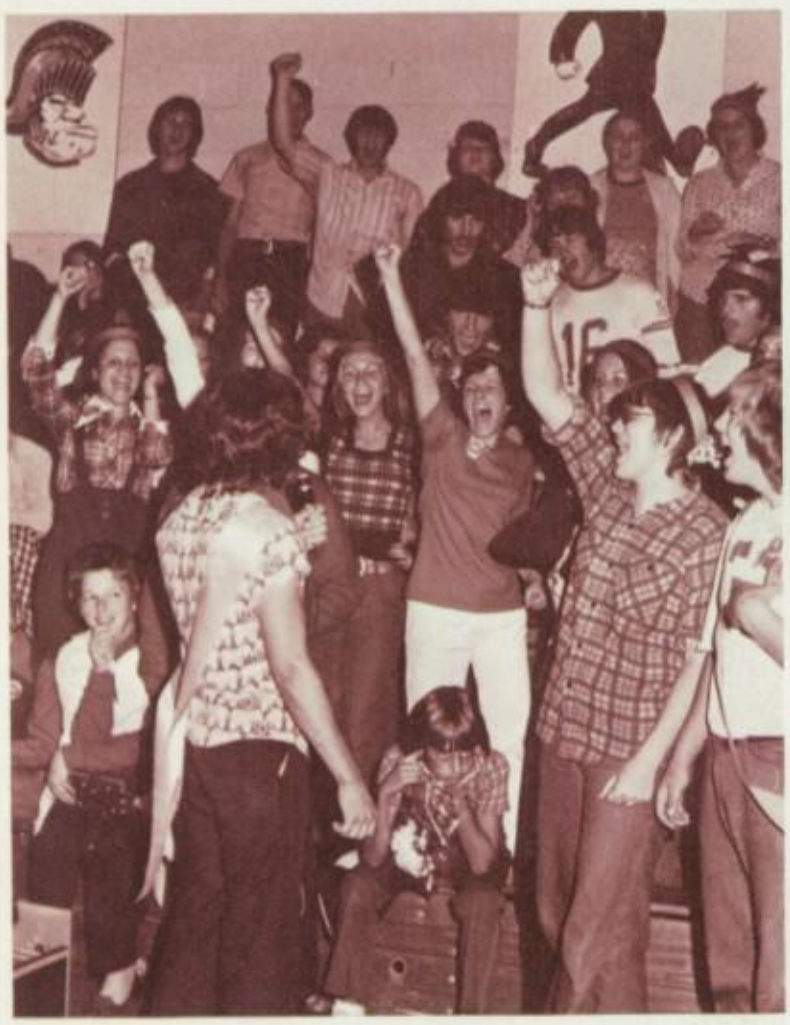
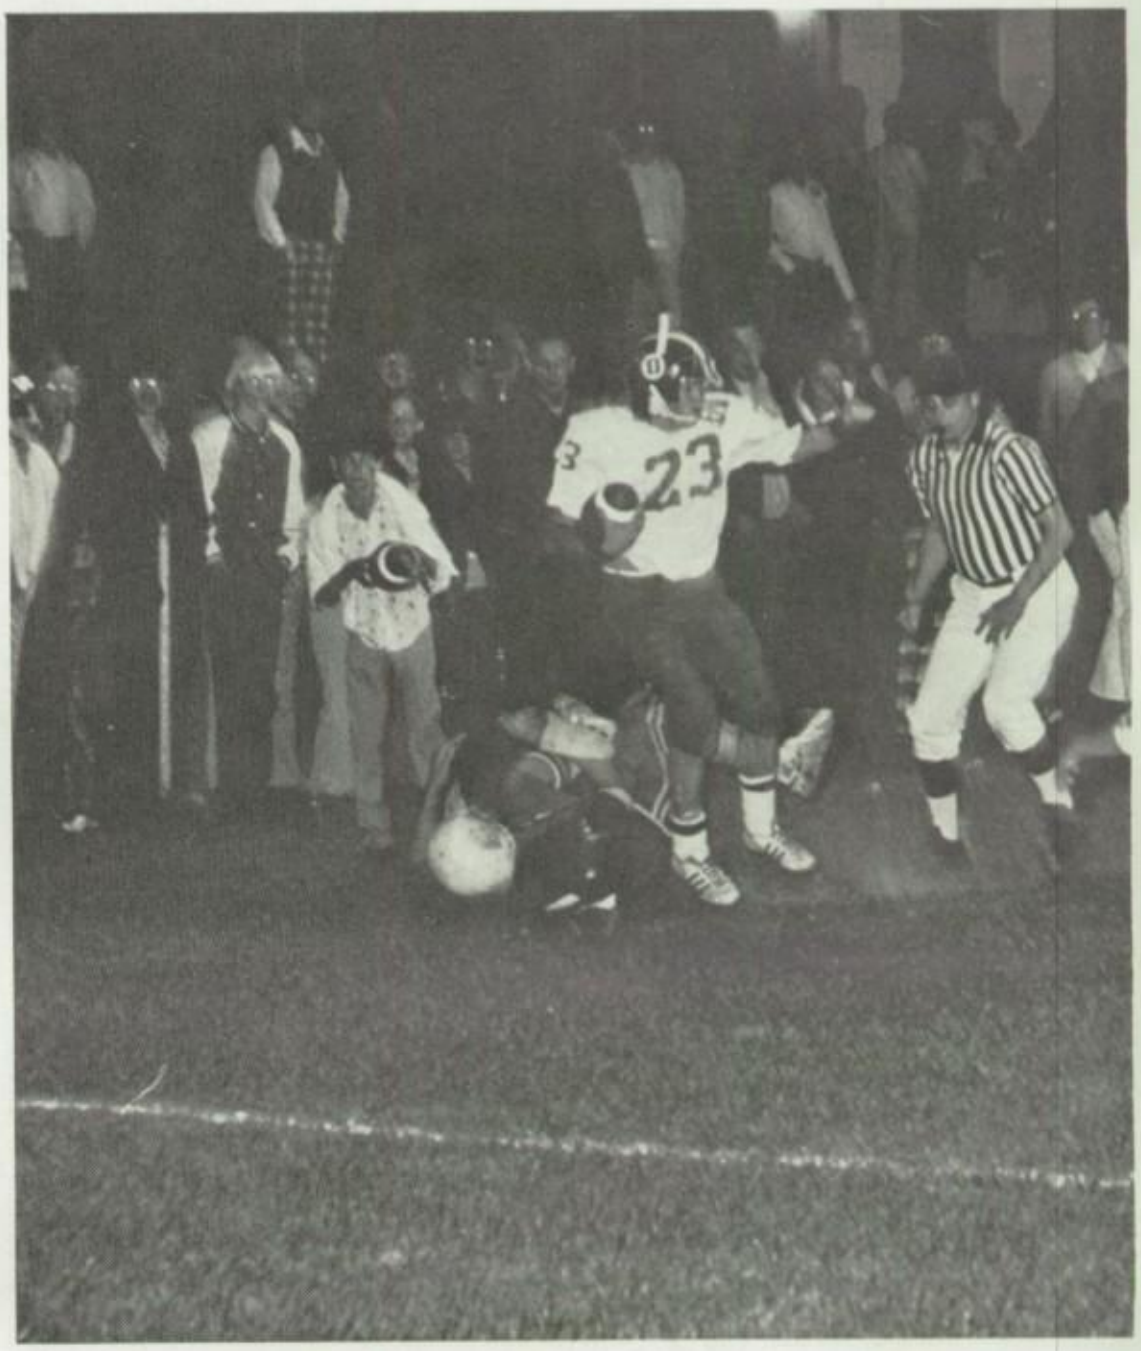
Seniors Dominate Homecoming Week Activities







Homecoming honors were swept up by the Senior Class this year. Senior Annette Terrell was crowned Homecoming Queen with another Senior, Lou Etta Moore, as her maid of honor. "Push Edgewood Over the Edge" won the float competition for the Seniors. The Senior skit, "The Wizard of Ned," was voted as best by the teachers. In the "Mr. Pretty Legs" contest, Seniors Kim Smith received top honors and Mark Smith was first runner-up. Tim Fritts, a Junior, was second runner-up. "The Wizard of Ned" also came through to win the ballgame for the Raiders, with Seniors Joe Henderson and Terry Hedrick scoring the touchdowns.

Following the game, Queen Annette and her court reigned over the victory dance.

Members of the Editorial Staff

A better DENTONIAN was produced this year due to a smaller, more experienced staff, a new mimeograph, and a new mimeoscope for doing artwork. With the moving of the commercial department to the old library room, the newspaper staff gained its own separate office with private working space. Most staff members had served at least one year previously with the paper.

Below is Kirby Matthews with the old mimeograph. The new machine arrived in December, too late to be photographed for the yearbook, but early enough to give us an attractive Christmas issue of the DENTONIAN.

mascot/ mas-kät/ n. 1: a person, animal or object held to bring good luck. 2a: something regarded as a cherished emblem or symbol.
raider/ radər/ n. 1: one that raids: one that leads or participates in a raid.
raid/ rād/ n. 2a: a brief foray outside one's usual sphere; c: a daring operation against a competitor.

Long before we arrived on the scene, our school was known as the home of the Red Raiders, and we are proud of the Indian brave as our mascot as well as a good luck charm.

Beyond the classroom, in sports competition with other schools, we feel a kinship with the Indian brave on our coat of arms. Ours is a small school, and often we are pitted against much larger schools as we compete in football, basketball, baseball, or track. Like the Indian of old, courage, loyalty and perseverance guide us in these sports raids. We may lose, but we come away strengthened by a remembrance that we fought well and hard for the things that mattered to us, just as our Indian mascot fought bravely to maintain his territory and the values that were meaningful to his life.

The Whole Town Is Talking

DONALD MORRIS, Denton Mayor-People are just thrilled to death to have a winning team.

BILL HILL, automobile dealer-The whole town is very enthusiastic- just generally pleased to have a good team. Most of the local people are particularly happy with the team as a whole- there are a few stars, but the town is proud of the whole team.

THERESA WALLACE, student-Everybody at school has been saying, "This is Denton?" We're really happy, but at first, no one could really believe it.

BOB CARROLL, county commissioner- I think the whole town is proud of this team. The boys have worked hard, and I'm glad to see it's paying off for those who've worked two or three years.

JAMES WEDDINGTON, postal clerk-This is the best defense we've ever had here. I'm real proud of our team. They've played well and had good coaching.

MEMORIES

Memories are made of things
That happen every day
Moments as we live them
Things we do or say.

Little bits and pieces
Of laughter mixed with tears
Paragraphs and pages
Written through the years.

The carefree days of childhood
The growing pains of youth
A few illusions shattered
In the endless search for truth.

The friendships we remember
Mistakes that we regret
The ending of a love affair
We never could forget.

Yes, memories are happenings
Each one a different kind
Each one a separate chapter
That is printed on the mind.

We can't erase the sadness
Or edit out the tears
We can't undo the wrongs we've done
We can't relive the years.

But since memories keep building
Each day can be the start
Of making new and happy ones
To store within the heart!

There will always be people who care,
Someone your problems to share,
Always ready to give a helping hand,
Always willing to care.

A teacher sharing knowledge
With a student wanting to learn,
There'll always be someone beside you
Whichever way you may turn.

Sharing your joys and sorrows
And helping you see what it means to care.

Talking of poems, prayers, and promises,
And things that we believe in,
How sweet it is to love someone,
How right it is to care.

How long it's been since yesterday,
And what about tomorrow?
And what about our dreams?
And all the memories we shared?

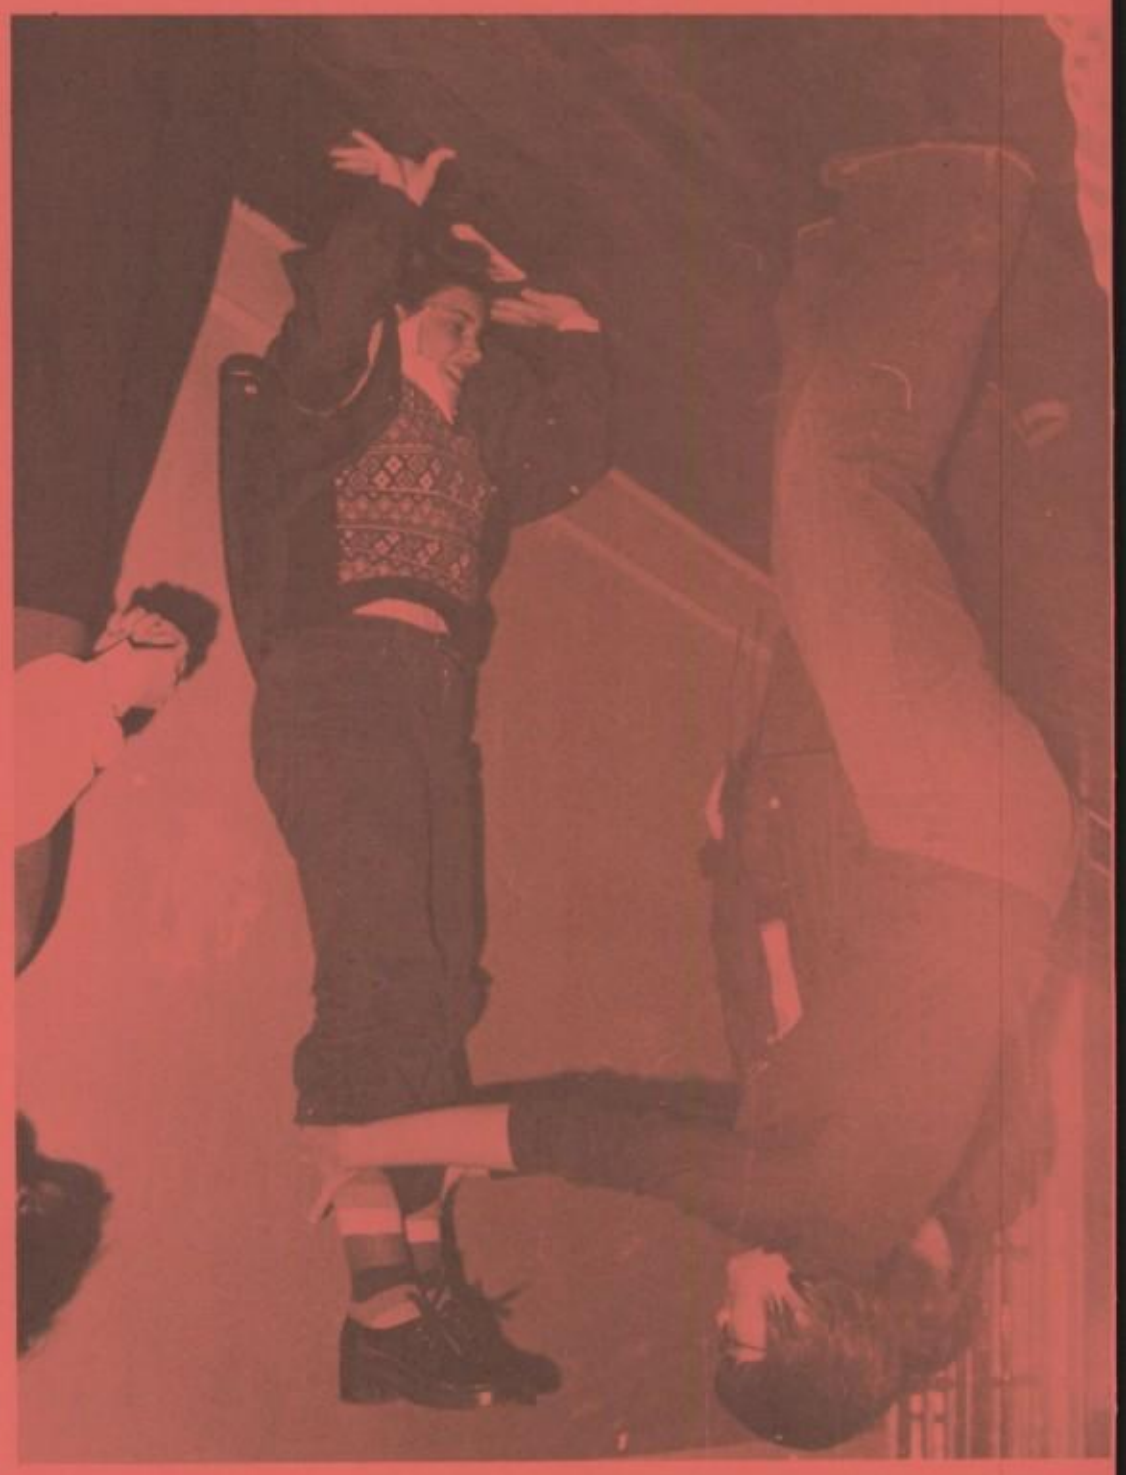
Such a feelings comin' over me
There is wonder in most everything I see
Not a cloud is the sky
Got the sun in my eyes
And I won't be surprised if it's a dream.

Everything I want the world to be
Is now coming true especially for me
I'm on top of the world
Looking down on creation
There's a pleasin' sense of happiness for me.

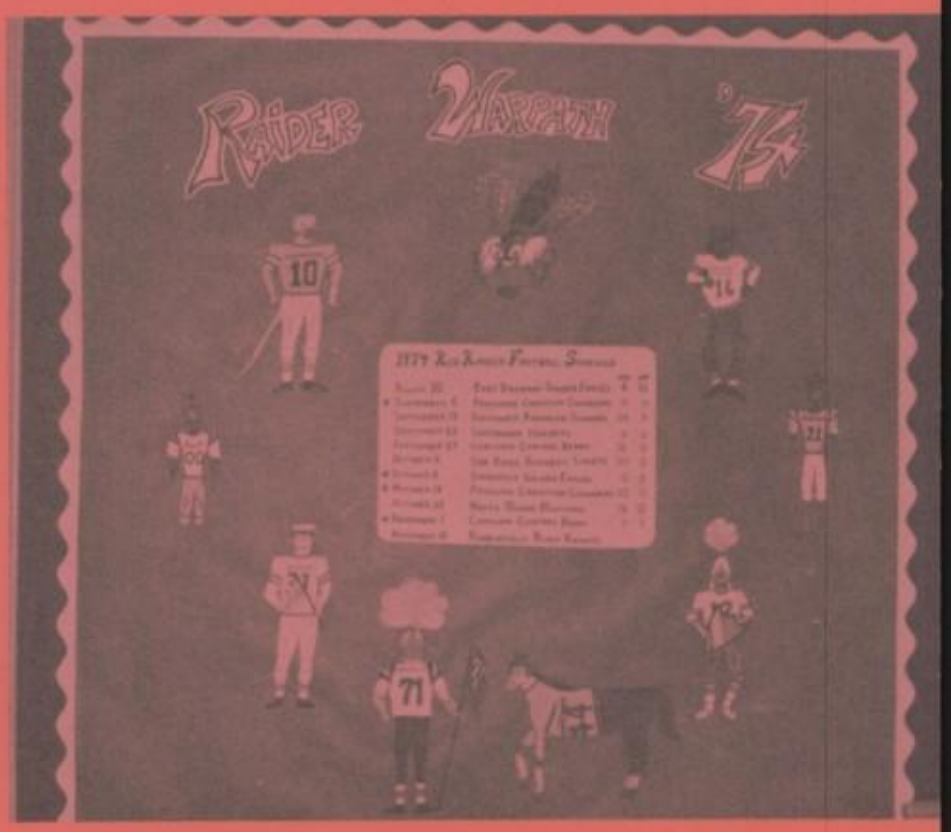


HA EST

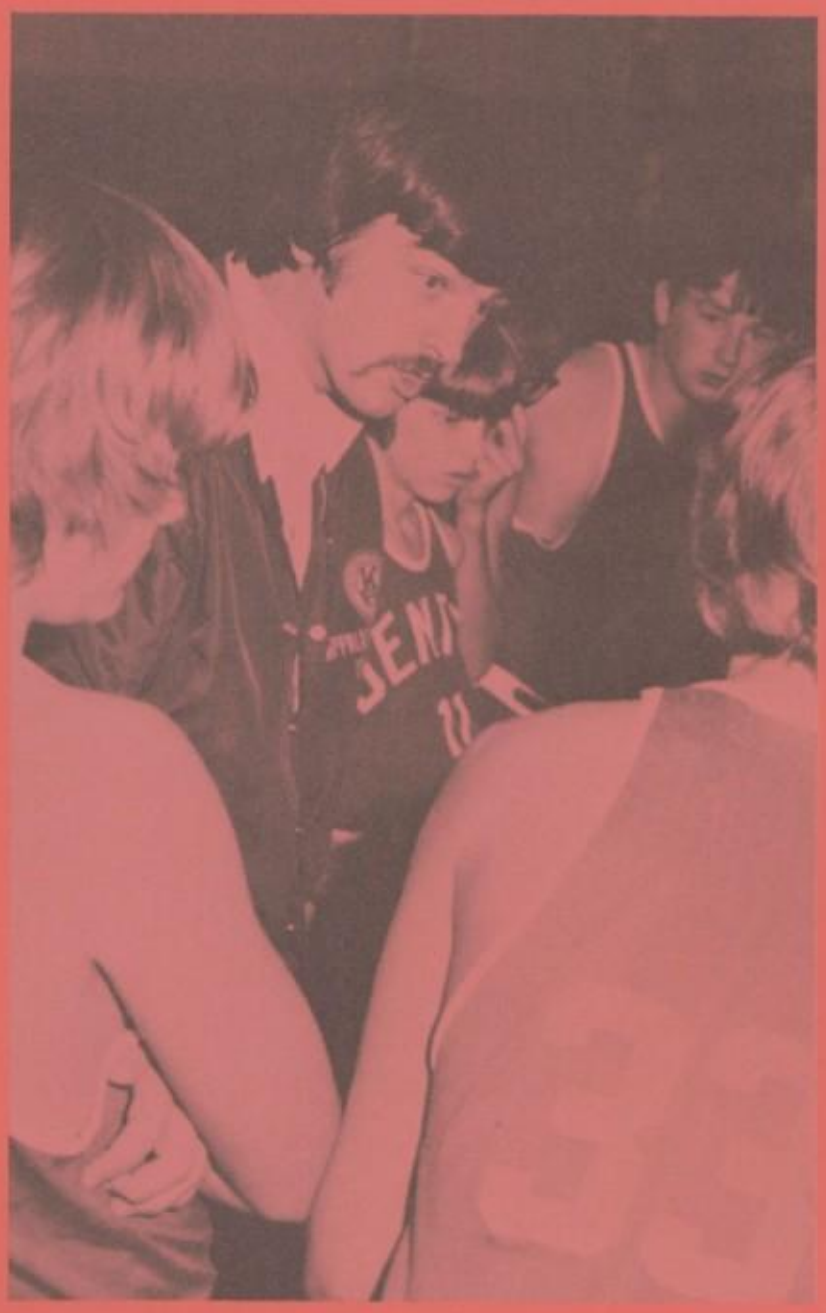
That's All Folks!

It's not easy to be successful,
But this is what I dream:
To reach heights alone-
As strange as it may seem.

I'll never give up the thought,
Because determination can win;
I must pay my dues, bide my time,
It's just around the bend.

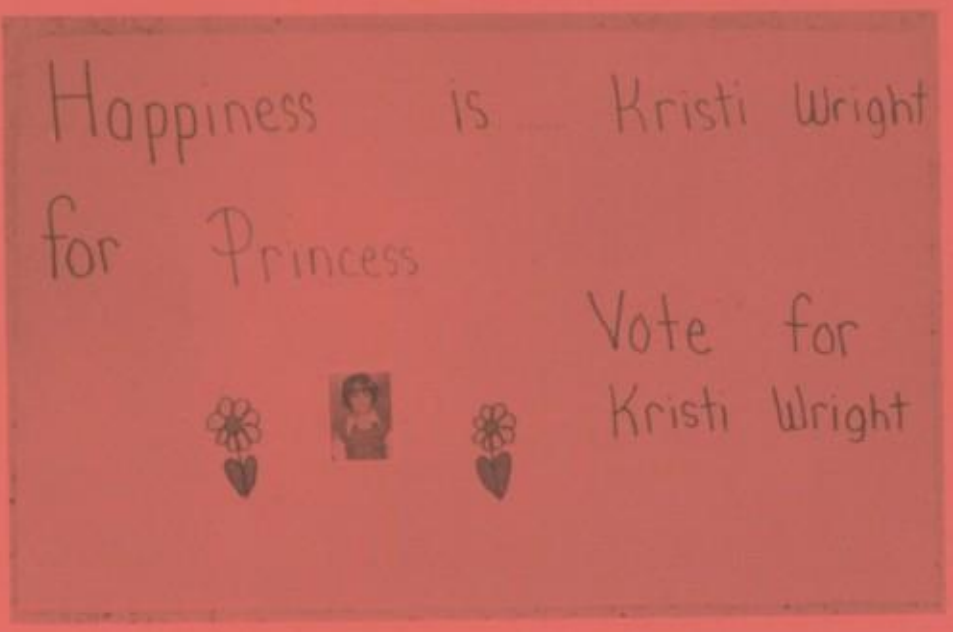


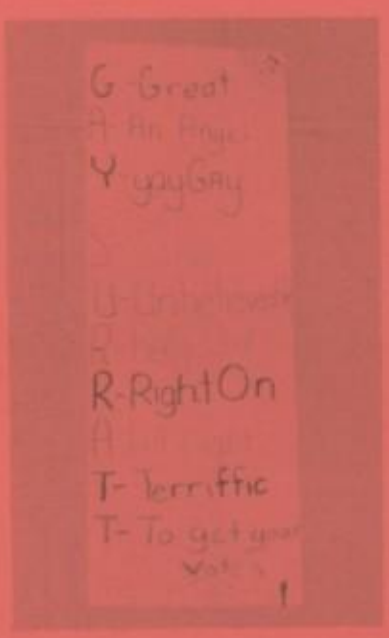
If it's for me. I will get it,
And if it's not, I'm not to blame.

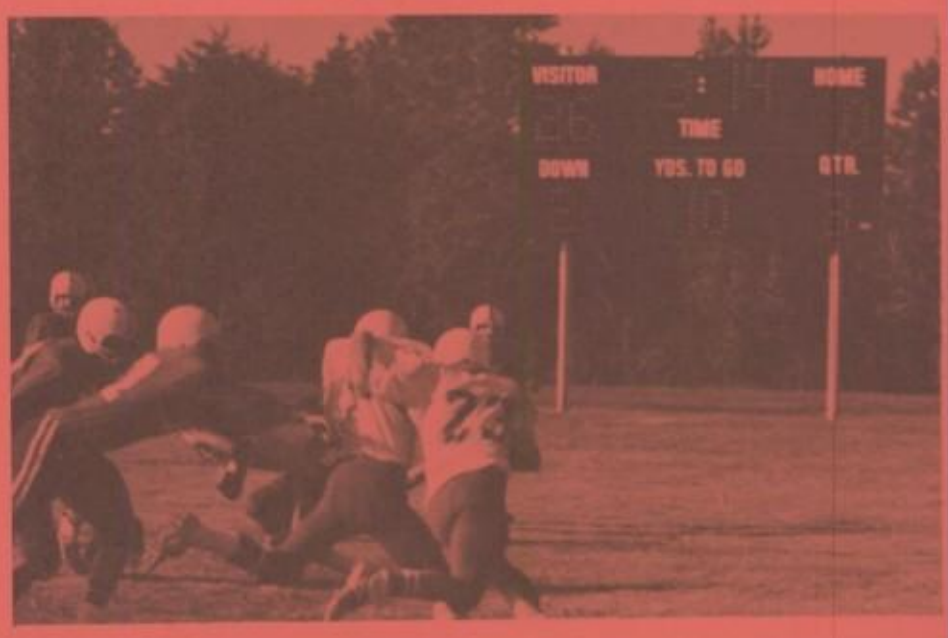


Sometimes we won,
Sometimes we lost,
Sometimes our hopes got tossed,
But we always seemed to make it.

Sometimes people have doubted,
Have screamed, hollered, and shouted,
But we always knew the reason
Why it was a great season.







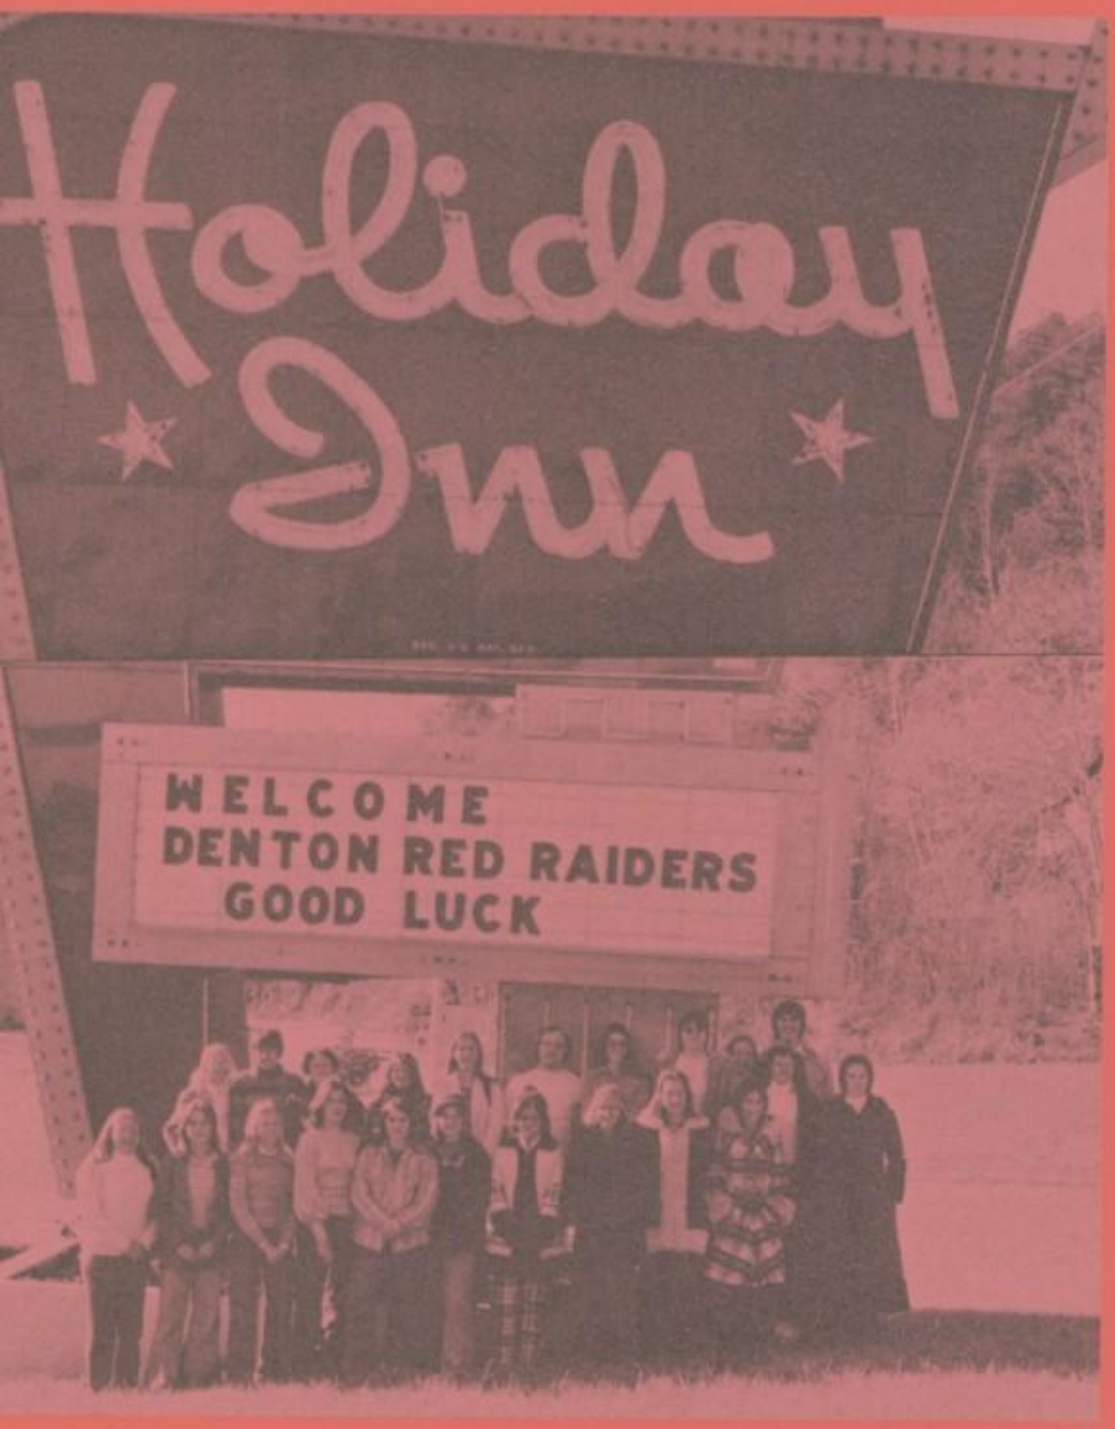
We cared enough to do our best
As each time we stood the test,
Proving we could come out on top;
Truly it was a great season.

There was never a team before,
Certainly their fans will agree,
Like the mighty Raiders of '74
As everyone could see.

They were a team with rapport throughout
As many a team did see;
These Raiders beat most in a rout,
Those teams had to agree.

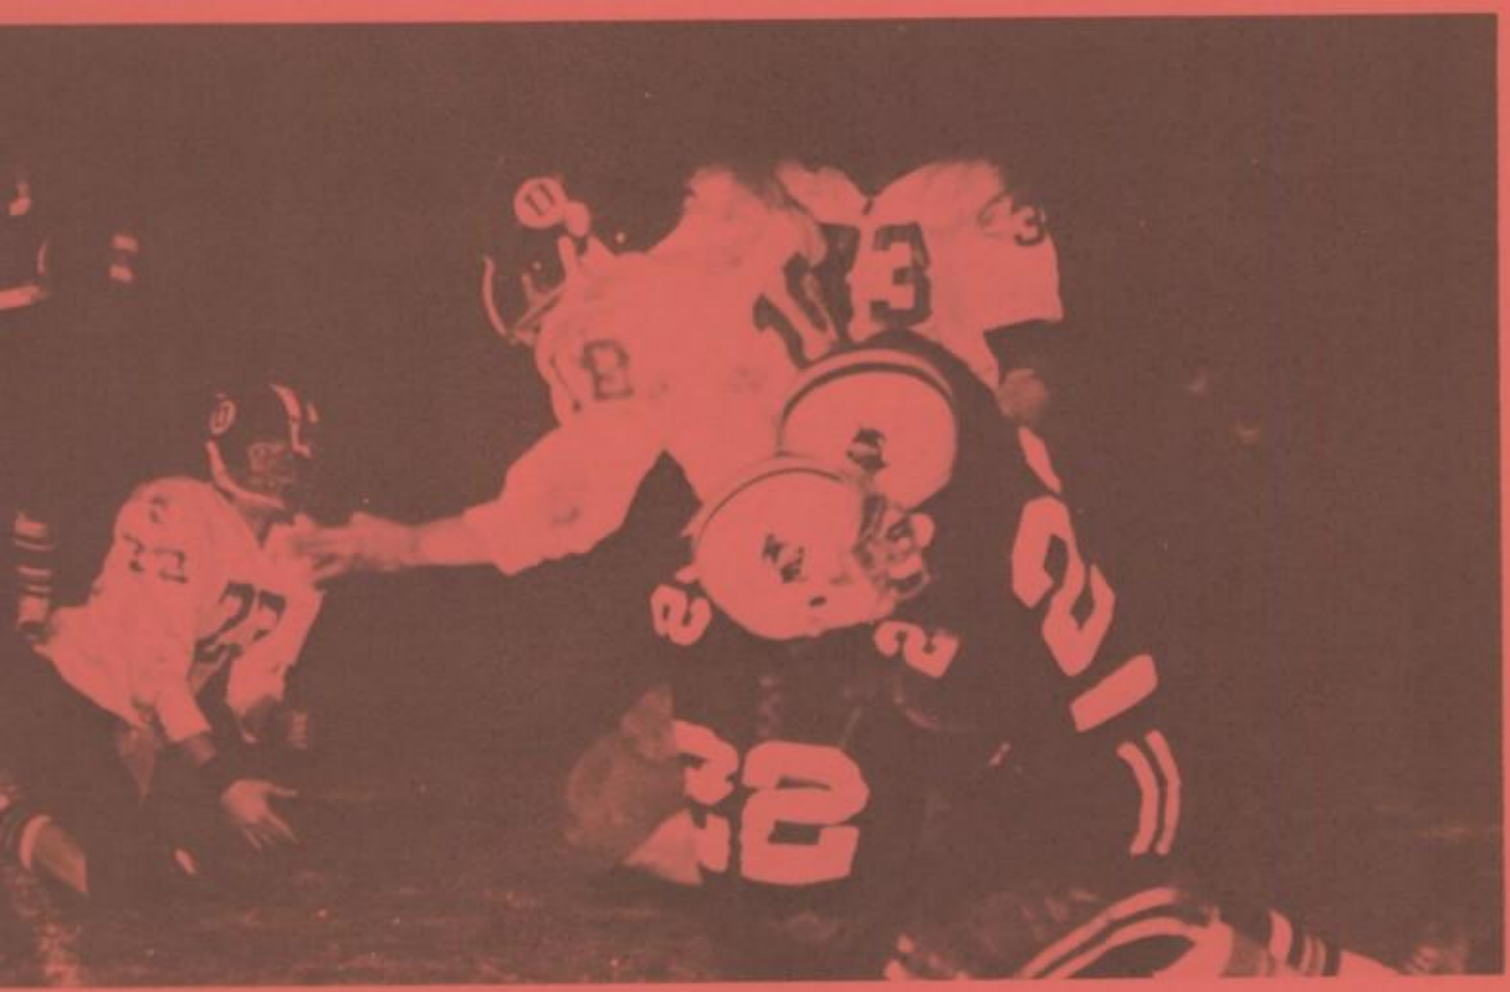
The Raiders' fame spread far and wide
As they told of them on TV
And wrote of them in the paper;
These Raiders will go down in history.

The team must now go to the playoffs
To defend their heritage short;
Their ability must now be tested
In, historically, their weakest sport.



Now Robbinsville has always been tough,
And it seems they will always be;
But the Raiders were determined
That their dream of No. I would be.

The Raiders entered the stadium
With mud upon their cleats,
And as the battle continued,
The Raiders lost their feet.



Although the score was quite onesided,
The town was very proud;
The team exerted their very best
Before their faithful crowd.

The team left those mountains
Before a crowd that sneered,
They've packed it up for now,
But, folks, just wait for next year!

The Year That Was:

WE'RE 8th in The STATE!!

R BEFORE had so much enthusiasm nown by so many toward Denton High's l program. When the Raiders "made the ratings" in a daily newspaper, the fact was proclaimed with a giant banner at a home game. (Photo by Earl Knight)

The book and quill in our coat of arms are in the lower right hand corner as symbols of our school's curriculum and the faculty that so ably disseminate the distilled knowledge which is theirs through years of preparation and experience in teaching. Their task is fundamental if stars are to be developed, and it is no accident that the book and quill are at the base of the coat of arms: this is where they belong as the foundation symbols for all else the school stands for.

WORDS OF WISDOM

Coca

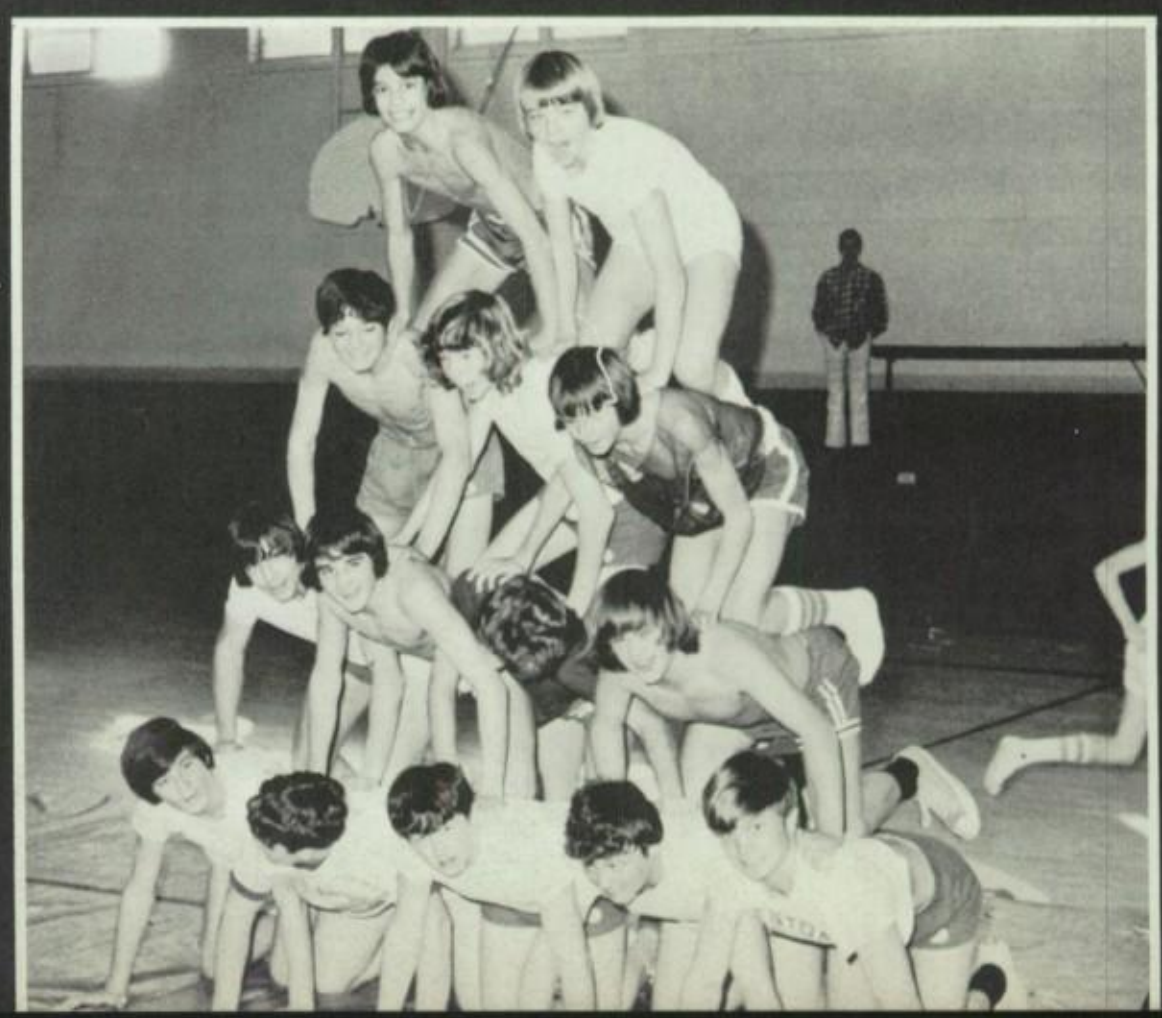
PLACE EMPTIES HERE

Things aren't so good.
Things also aren't so bad.



Sue Hill,
Class Editor.

star/stär/n. 1a: any natural luminous body visible in the sky, esp. at night; b: a self-luminous gaseous celestial body; . . . . . 5 a: the principal member of á theatrical or operatic company . . . who usually plays the leading role; v. 1 a: to perform or be a star: play the most prominent or important role; to perform outstandingly.

When we see the word "star" we think of the self luminous heavenly bodies that beautify the night skies and also serve as guiding lights for wayfarers on earth, or we think of a stage where people have starring roles, each differing from the other, yet all essential to the success of the play or opera. In a similar way, the four red stars in the diagonal shield of our coat of arms remind us of the students in each of the four high school classes. The school exists as a setting for these students who, like heavenly stars, are self-luminous personalities. Denton High School, in its scholastic program and extra-curricular opportunities, wants to fan the fire in each student until that student reaches his or her highest level of freedom as all share in the drama of school life.

banner / ban-ər / n. a piece of cloth attached to a staff and used by a monarch or other commander as his standard and as a rallying point in battle.

The banner bearing the words DENTON HIGH, DENTON, N.C. symbolizes a rallying point for the school and community as they work together supporting each other. Without the patrons' rallying behind the school through their purchase of advertisements, this yearbook would not be possible. The patrons' efforts in reaching out to help has given the students of Denton School a renewed confidence in the continued existence of the community's concern for the school. In so doing, the cooperation in advocating something of student interest establishes the school as an integral part of the community, cementing the relationship between the school and the community. Fully realizing this, the students say THANK YOU to those who have supported them and the yearbook through the ads in the following section.

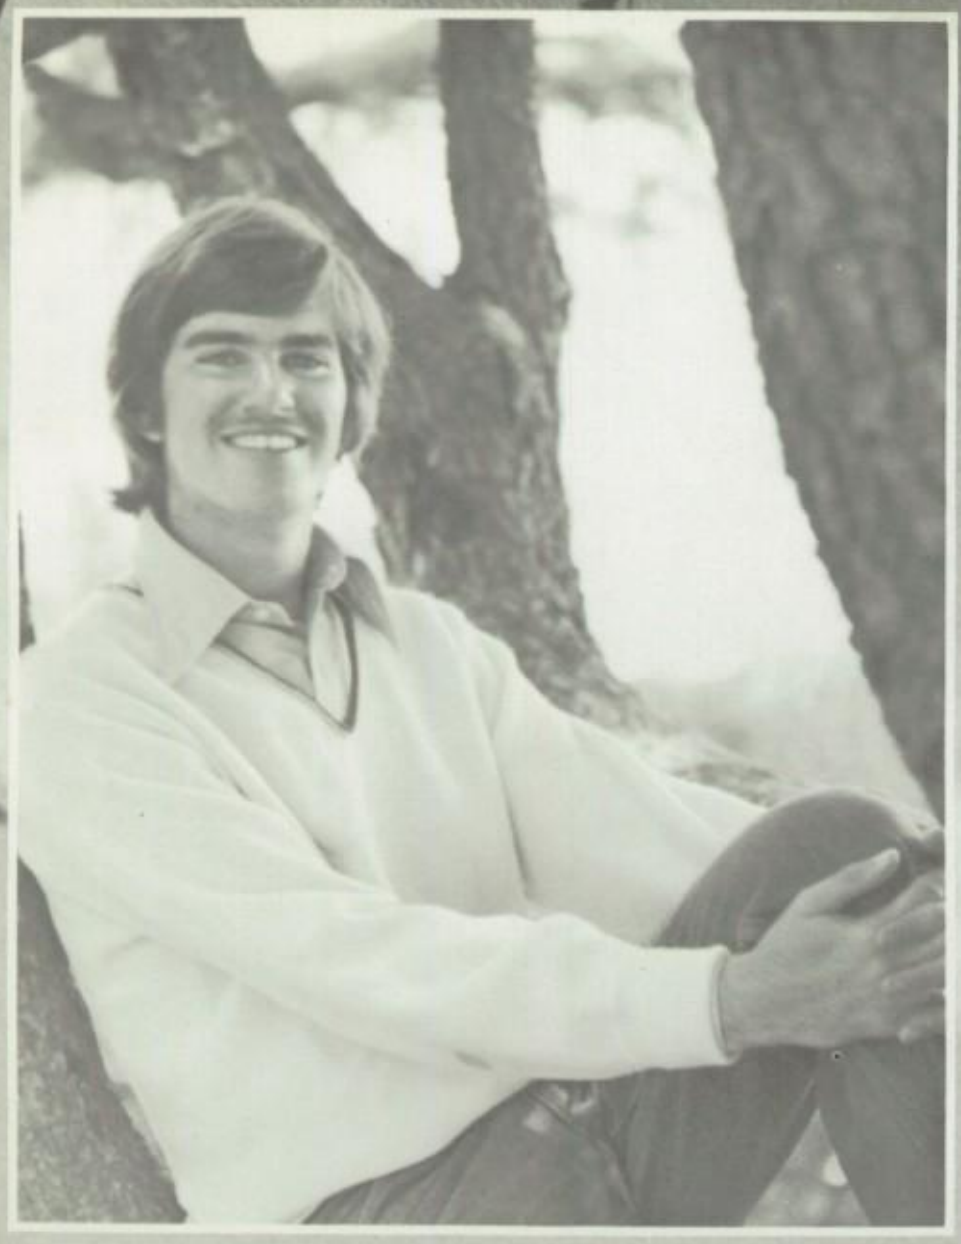
A new course was offered for Seniors this year in which the study of yearbook production was to be a large part of the fall term's work. Therefore the students of this class form the majority of the PHOENIX staff. Students have worked with cameras learning about different types of cameras and equipment, have studied advertising, layout design, and copy fitting. Much of the work on the yearbook was done during class periods; however some afternoon and night sessions, so familiar to yearbook staffs, were still necessary.

The staff would like to thank Mrs. Baker for the many days and evenings she has spent working with us. She brought a cheerful outlook when we needed it and encouragement to carry on and get the job done. Without Mrs. Baker's help this yearbook would have been impossible.



This year the PHOENIX staff has tried to show the varied activities of school life. Since the school has adopted a new coat of arms, we have used this as an opportunity to show how each part of this coat of arms is focused of different activities and students. We have tried to show how each one has different interests, with some excelling in some things while others excel in others. It takes all the different students to make up one unit, and we would not be complete without all the parts. Neither would we have it any other way. We hope that you will enjoy this PHOENIX of 1975 as you see yourself and your classmates involved in school activities.
